Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, ofttimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

HAY FEVER

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenuous and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

For something new, nice, economical and effective, try a box of

A STORY ABOUT GRANT

Captain A. L. De Rosset, of Wilmington, N. C., in an article in "The Confederate Veteran" says that General Grant, Admiral Farragut and General George H. Thomas applied to Jefferson Davis for commissions in the Confederate service. "I have been told," continues the writer, "that the wife of each of these officers either dissuaded or objected to their resignation from the federal service."

Captain De Rosset says that Colonel Chalaron, who is the custodian of the Louisiana Historical Association, has in his possession the letters which he said Grant, Farragut and Thomas wrote to Davis. De Rosset continues:

"Mr. Pierce was elected president in 1852 and appointed Jefferson Davis his Secretary of War. Later, at the suggestion of Davis, and for good reasons, Grant, than a captain, resigned from the United States army. Upon the secession of the southern States, in 1861, Captain Grant applied to the Governor of Illinois for a commission to raise a regiment to serve in the United States army. His request was ignored at that time, and later, Jefferson Davis having been inaugurated Provisional President of the Confederate States on February 18, 1861, he wrote asking for a commission in the Confederate army. While in New Orleans some time ago I mentioned the incident to Colonel Chalaron. He told me my information was correct, and that he had in his possession the original letter from Captain Grant to Mr. Davis making the request, but that, in accordance with the terms of Davis's will, the correspondence could not be published until two years after the death of Mrs. Davis."

The above is denied by the friends of Grant, Farragut and others.

TRANSIT OF MERCURY.

Professor John A. Brashear, the astronomer, announces in Pittsburg that on Thursday morning, November 14 the planet Mercury will cross the base of the sun, an occurrence which takes place only eight times in a hundred years. Mr. Brashear issued instructions Saturday night as to the best manner of viewing the transit, as follows:

There will be an interesting transit of the planet Mercury across the sun's disk on the morning of November 14, and if the sky is clear we should see it fairly well, although it would be much more satisfactory to observe if the sun were at a greater altitude.

The sun rises a little after 7 o'clock, and by that time the planet will be well advanced on the eastern limb of the sun. At 9:10 Mercury will be just leaving the solar disk. Unfortunately it will be almost impossible to see the planet on the sun's disk with the naked eye, even though dark or smoked glasses are used; but it may be readily projected on white paper or card by a field glass or fairly good opera glasses, using the same as an ordinary camera, except that the paper should be held far enough from the eye and of the opera glasses to get a fairly large image—say, an inch or more in diameter. The edges of the sun should be focused sharp, and then the planet should be seen as a small blood spot on the solar disk.

It can also be observed with a small telescope, using a dark cap or solar eyepiece, to protect the eye from the glare and heat of the sun's image. The last transit of Mercury occurred in 1894. The next will be in 1914.

ST. MARTIN'S DAY.

If November eleventh is cold and clear,
Then the winter will be severe;
But if that day be stormy, child,
The next four months will all be mild.

So runs the old saw in which is embodied the popular superstition of St. Martin's influence over the weather. It is the legitimate descendant of an ancient legend regarding St. Martin's Day, celebrated today in at least seven London churches of which he is the patron saint, and in many other ritualistic churches all over the world.

Elected to the See of Tours in 374, St. Martin converted his whole diocese from paganism to Christianity. He died November 11, 397, and, in accordance with old church custom, his day is celebrated on the anniversary of his death.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

ASSAULTS IN RICHMOND.

The condition of Miss Mamie Conner, who was beaten into insensibility, dragged into an alley and assaulted within a stone's throw of her home in Richmond Saturday, is said to be in a critical condition.

Two other attempts at assault were made in Richmond Saturday night. Mrs. E. L. Mayer was accosted by a negro, who attempted to take hold of her. She ran frantically with the negro in pursuit and fell fainting at the door of a friend's home. The negro came up to her, but was frightened off by people who had been attracted by the noise.

The third attempt was made in the lower section of the city, when a girl was caught by a negro and nearly strangled to death before assistance reached her. She was unconscious when picked up. Persons passing at the time evidently frightened the negro away.

The assaults in every instance have been made in sections where there is little or no light. Miss Conner, who is 19 years old, lay in the alley unconscious probably three quarters of an hour. She then stumbled into her home in a semi-conscious condition.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 11, 1907.

NEARLY one-half of the 800-living rooms in the new Plaza Hotel, which was recently completed at the corner of Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, New York city, at the cost of $12,500,000, have been taken in the form of suites as permanent homes for millionaires under yearly contracts. The rentals of these tenants vary from $15,000 to $30,000 a year. The suites include parlor, dining room, library and varying number of bedrooms, all opening upon a private hall, which in turn connects with a public hotel corridor. This insures privacy and a sense of family unity to each set of rooms. Warming and refrigerating apparatus in the private pantry is connected by chutes and tubes with the general kitchen in the basement, so as to give a dining service the advantage of a perfectly equipped hotel plant, but in the privacy of an individual home. Living such lives may save some trouble but it would appear to most people that men who can pay from $15,000 to $30,000 a year for board would prefer the comforts and privacy of their own homes even at the expense of a few petty annoyances.

DESPITE the utmost secrecy observed by the officials of the Department of Justice and the Treasury Department, it is known that steps already have been taken to prosecute some of the leading national bankers of New York for making false reports of the Comptroller of the Currency regarding the financial condition of their institutions. There are but few of these cases, and it is stated that there is no cause for alarm generally. The making of false reports is a criminal offense, punishable by a heavy fine or a term in the penitentiary, or both. The same institutions have violated the banking laws by making loans in excess of those provided by law. This is not a criminal offense, but one which is cause for the Comptroller of the Currency to take control of the guilty bank. It seems that the New York bankers have laws unto themselves and their actions have frequently brought about financial disasters.

NOT only less meat, but dearer will be eaten in the near future by the greatest meat-eating nation on the face of the earth, which is the American, according to a report by George K. Holmes, chief of the division of foreign markets, of the Agricultural Department. In fact, Mr. Holmes concludes that a large part of the population must do without meat as an article of diet, for the day of meat cheap enough for the poor to afford it is rapidly passing. The Holmes report has been published by the department, and other officials who have studied it and passed conclusions upon it, admit that his statistics tend to show a growing meat scarcity with higher meat prices.

FORMER SENATOR CARMACK, of Tennessee, said in an interview in Atlanta on Saturday said: "Roosevelt is the biggest fake and the most popular man in the United States. Headlines are his ruling passion, and whenever he breaks into big type he is supremely delighted. America lost a great yellow journalist when he went into politics." The former Senator has drawn a pretty accurate picture of the President.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Nov. 11.

Mrs. Anna M. Bradley, pale and worn, yet displaying unusual fortitude, appeared in Justice Stafford's court today to answer for the killing of former Senator Brown of Utah, only to hear that she would be given a two-days' respite before her ordeal begins. Immediately after the calling of the roll of veniremen and witnesses, District Attorney Baker, announcing the death of Justice McComas, of the Court of Appeals, asked that the court make official recognition of it. To this he was supplemented by Attorney Hoover, of Mrs. Bradley's counsel. Justice Stafford then announced adjournment until Wednesday morning. Mrs. Bradley was visibly relieved at the postponment. When she slipped into the court room, almost unnoticed, she was evidently struggling to retain her composure under a tremendous nervous strain. She was dressed in black with a touch of white at the throat, her wan face and hollow cheeks pallid in contrast with the sombre clothing. A curious crowd collected about the building to catch a possible glance of her. The court room itself was only partly filled. The defendant was preceded by her mother who entered the court room shortly before her. Mrs. Bradley, it will be remembered shot and killed former Senator Brown in the Raleigh Hotel in this city, on December [illegible] because she said he had deserted [illegible] her two children, of whom she [illegible] was the father.

[illegible] Postoffice Department today denied the Star Clipping Bureau of [illegible]ville, Tenn., and the North American Music Company of 59 West 28th St., [illegible] to be schemes to defraud and they are denied the future use of the mails.

Arguments were presented to the U. S. Supreme Court today by the department of justice in a brief, in opposition to the court reviewing the judgment of the United States court of Minnesota fining the Great Northern Railway Company $10,000 in a rebate case. The department urged that the Hepburn rate law does not extend immunity to all rebaters reached by the Elkins act, even if at the time of the passage of the Hepburn law action had not been taken to prosecute the offender.

Roosevelt's administration lost today its battle in the U. S. Supreme Court for the federal protection of negroes against interference by white folks, with their work, because they are negroes. The court announced its decision in the Boyett case of Arkansas, holding that the federal court of Eastern Arkansas erred in fining Boyett, et al, guilty of violating a federal statute, in threatening to do injury to negroes if they continued to work for the Arkansas Lumber Company. The court held that the State court alone had jurisdiction in such cases as no right guaranteed by the United States had been violated. The Department of Justice took an unusual interest in having the judgement of the lower court sustained.

The government's fight against the whisky interests may result in the wholesale seizure in the open market of goods not labeled in accordance with the attorney general's interpretation of the pure food laws. Assistant Attorney General Sanford, who has been given charge of the government case to be begun shortly, will confer with his chief today relative to the matter. It is estimated that the test suit to enforce the law may not be finally settled for a year or more.

Tate, of Pulaski; first vice president, Mrs. Jas. Y. Leigh, of Norfolk; second vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth N. Neely, of Portsmouth; third vice president, Mrs. Robert Mead, of Petersburg; fourth vice president, Mrs. Charles Larkin, of Manassas; recording secretary, Miss N. C. Preston, of Seven Mile Ford; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Wysor, of Pulaski; treasurer, Mrs. F. C. Thornton, of Charlotte Courthouse; historian, Miss Ruth Early, of Lynchburg; registrar, Mrs. A. A. Campbell, of Wytheville; recorder of crosses, Mrs. James E. Alexander, of Alexandria; custodian of papers, Mrs. J. H. Timberlake, of Atlee.

Manassas was selected as the next place of meeting.

Several amendments to the constitution were adopted, and it was decided to ask the legislature of the State to pass a law making it a penal offense for anyone to wear a Confederate cross of honor in Virginia who is not entitled to do so.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

Governor Swanson has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

The President has named the 28th day of this month as a day to be observed throughout the United States as Thanksgiving day.

Now, therefore, I, Claude A. Swanson, Governor of Virginia, do hereby direct that Thursday, November 28th, 1907, be regularly observed as a holiday, and that the State offices be closed on that day. Furthermore, I request that the people assemble in their respective places of worship and give thanks to Almighty God for the manifold blessings which have been bestowed upon us.

During the past year Virginia has been preserved from pestilences and famine. She has escaped calamities, and her people have been blessed with abundant prosperity. In conformity with the proclamation of the President of the United States, I invite the people to especially set apart the day afore named to humbly and reverently invoke Almighty God for a continuance of His great mercies and goodness.

MENACE IN PROHIBITION.

Because of the wave of prohibition in the South the Daughters of the Confederacy fear the real southern gentleman may cease to exist. They hope prohibition will be beneficial in its effect on the negro problem, but Mrs. Pauline Fitzgerald expressed their opinion when she spoke before the Daughters at the Grand Pacific Hotel in Chicago last week on "Southern Hospitality."

"What will become of our immortal southern gentleman without his favorite mint julip?" she said with sorrow. "Southern hospitality is known all over the civilized world as the capsheaf of all social amenities, and the capsheaf is the real old southern gentleman. His place on earth can never be filled, and with him must be associated his familiar mint julip—a household necessity south of Masons and Dixon's line."

TABLET UNVEILED.

A great bowlder, bearing a bronze tablet, which is to mark the road over which Gen. Braddock's men marched on April 14, 1755, on their way to Fort Duquesne, Pa., was unveiled yesterday by the Hon. James Bryce, England's Ambassador to the United States, in the grounds of SS. Peter and Paul Cathedral at St. Alban's Heights, Washington. The bowlder and tablet were erected by the Society of Colonial Wars, members of which were present in a body and dedicated the memorial, which is the first of its kind to be erected within the limits of the District of Columbia.

Michael McCabe, a miner, is in a living tomb near Mahoney City, Pa., the result of a cave-in. He is buried far under the groud, and the best mining experts say it will take months to cut through the debris to the chamber where the doomed mining is slowly starving to death, alone in the dark—perhaps insane by this time.

Ill-luck in love and the impossibility of securing work are believed to have caused the suicide today of a man believed to have been Samual Brass, who shot himself dead in a hallway of a Sixth avenue office building in New York, in the presence of several women who had just alighted from an elevator and their shrieks as they stampeded from the building nearly caused a panic outside.

In a lonely spot, fifteen miles south of Pittsburg, a party of masked men, with dynamite and Winchester rifles, on Saturday wrecked and attacked a car laden with money for the pay of miners some miles ahead. Many shots were fired, and several persons on the wrecked car were hurt. The attacking party, which is said to have been composed of miners out of work, finally was driven off. The car with money for the miners was closely followed by the pay car of the interuban road, and it almost ran into the wreck in the fog. It is thought the attacking party intended to wreck both cars.

DEATH OF JUDGE McCOMAS.

Judge Louis E. McComas, of Maryland, the ranking associate justice of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia and former United States Senator from Maryland, died suddenly at his home in Washington yesterday morning.

Heart disease from which he suffered for some time, was the cause of his death.

Hon. Louis Emory McComas was born in Washington county, Maryland, October 28, 1846, the son of Frederick C. McComas. He was admitted to the bar in 1868, and began the practice of law at Hagerstown. In 1876 he ran for Congress and was defeated by William Walsh by only 14 votes. He was elected to Congress in 1882, and served in that body from 1883 to 1891. In 1892 he was appointed by President Harrison Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, serving in that capacity for seven years. In 1898 he was elected United States Senator from Maryland, and served in the Senate until 1905, when he was succeeded by Senator Raynor. On June 26, 1905, President Roosevelt appointed Mr. McComas Associate Justice of the United States Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia to succeed Judge Morris. Mr. McComas's first wife was Miss Leah M. Humrichouse, of Hagerstown, to whom he was married September 23, 1875. She died several years ago. On July 18 last he was married at Atlantic City to Mrs. Hebe Muir, of Louisville, Ky.

A TRAGEDY.

Paul Gilbert Thebaud, jr., the eighteen-year-old son of Paul Gilbert Thebaud, who is a member of the long-established commission firm of Thebaud Brothers, in New York, was shot through the forehead at Rocky Dell Farm, the White Plains country home of his father, at an early hour yesterday morning by John Bjorlin, a Danish valet in the employ of the Thebauds. The valet, after shooting the youth, turned the pistol on himself and died instantly, with a bullet behind the ear. Young Gilbert Thebaud was so seriously wounded that the physicians in attendance upon him say that they will probably not be able to save his life, Bjorlin was greatly attached to the young man and believed he was to be discharged for heavy drinking.

Attempted Suicide.

New York, Nov. 11.—Leaving notes to several relatives and friends pinned to the portiers of her handsome apartments at Mrs. Herman Weller's home, Mrs. Bella Castilvetro swallowed poison early today, walked up Third avenue to Twenty second street, met Policeman Mullen, told him what she had done and was hurried to Bellevue Hospital where, though her condidition is critical, it is hoped she may recover. One of her letters was addressed to M. M. Platt, Cleveland, and reads: "Dear Father: You often said I would be better off dead. Now you wont have to worry any more about me. Mr. D. probably loved me best of all, but I don't care. Its too late now. When you get this letter I will have joined mother. Forgive me. BELLA." Mrs. Castilvetro was a church worker. She was married recently to Frank Castilvetro, a dealer in picture post-cards, but says her husband quarreled with her ten days ago, left home and has not returned since.

Practically every State in the South, will be represented in the conference. Favorite sons are certain to be advanced from several States, but is regarded as likely there will be a weeding out and that the conference may decide definitely to go into the next convention determined to give all the packing they can secure to some candidate picked at this conference. Among the names that will be presented to the conference as "eligibles," are: Governor Folk of Missouri; Senator Daniel of Virginia; Senator Culberson of Texas and Senator Carmack, of Tennessee. Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia and John Sharp Williams of Mississippi also will have supporters.

American Federation of Labor.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 11.—There were few absentees among the four hundred delegates to the twenty-sixth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor when the great gathering was called to order at 10 o'clock in the Auditorium at the Jamestown Exposition. In addition many prominent labor leaders who were not sent as delegates were on hand to watch the proceedings. Governor Swanson, of Virginia, welcomed the Federation. President Samuel Gompers and Secretary Morrison, of the Federation, also delivered addresses. This completed the business for the day. In honor of the delegates it was "Federation Day" at the exposition.

Emperor William in England.

London, Nov. 11.—If ever there was a melancholy landing of a foreign royalty on British soil it was at 2 o'clock this afternoon when Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany stepped from the imperial yacht Hohenzollern upon the wharf at Portsmouth.

What was planned for a gorgeous pageant, boiling with joy and enthusiasm, might well have been mistaken for a funeral. The fog was so dense that nearly every feature of the programme which had been arranged was marred.

There wasn't much cheering because nobody could tell when it was time to cheer. Water dripped from everything. The marines were soaked. The kaiser's mustache almost dripped with moisture. His majesty was evidently anxious lest the dampness have an unfavorable effect on the throat trouble from which he has been suffering and was muffled up until he looked almost like a walking mummy.

The conditions which prevailed at the time completely ruined the celebration. Nearly everyone had gone home.

The British warship were anchored in two lines, as per previous programme, headed by the King Edward VII, Admiral Beresford's flagship, while a host of destroyers formed a third line.

The kaiser, in a British Admiral's uniform, stood on the bridge of his yacht, but the battleships were almost indistinguishable to him, and from the battleships' decks he could not be seen at all.

The war vessels ran up the German ensign as the Hohenzollern approached, but it couldn't be seen from the decks of the ships themselves. The salute of twenty-one guns boomed out of the gloom, the ceremonies on the wharf were rushed through as quickly as possible and every one hurried to the special train which was to take the party to Windsor.

The Duke of Connaught failed to show himself until the reception was over.

London, Nov. 11.—The Empeor and Empress arrived at Windsor this evening and were welcomed at the station by King Edward and Queen Alexandra. The soverigns exchanged kisses the presentations of the members of the German suit followed. Then Mayor of Windsor presented an address. From the station their majesties drove in State carriages to the castle, the Kaiser riding with Queen Alexandra and with the Kaiserin. The town was brilliantly decorated and the streets lined with soldiers.

Millionaire's Son Shot.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Paul Gilbert Thebaud, jr., 17-year-old son of multimillionaire and society man of the same name, is making a desperate fight for life today at the palatial family home, Hillair, in Westchester county, where he was shot yesterday by John B. Bjorlin, confidential companion, who then committed suicide. The best experts that money could procure have been at the young man's bedside since they were rushed to the country home at 60 miles an hour in the great Thebaud automobiles. The bullet entered the center of the boy's head and crushed the skull. Little hope was expressed at first, but skilled hands removed the bone and bullet from the brain and today it was said he probably would recover. The cause of the shooting is unknown, although it is believed that Bjorlin supposed he was about to lose his position in the Thebaud family.

Rabbi Attacks Ministers.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Ministers of today were flayed unmercifully by Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch at Sinai Temple yesterday. Religion is served a la mode these days, he declared, because ministers spend most of their time seeing that a "pleasant time is had, at religious gatherings. The minister is ever at the call of Mr. Moneybags, Mrs. Moneybags and all the little moneybags," said he. "What they will he must do. The penalty is loss of his position, or job, as it is called nowadays. Instead of the vigorous leader and the power in the community that he should be and that he was, the minister has returned to the original work of the pastor—the tender of the flock—the one who stands by and smiles while his flock enjoys itself and grows fat. The principal work of the pastor of today is to officiate at weddings and to say nice things at funerals."

Young Man Stabbed.

Shelton, Conn., Nov. 11.—Coroner Doten is here from Bridgeport today investigating the murder Saturday night of Frank Olinsky, a young man employed at the silver shop, who was fatally stabbed in front of a house where a Polish wedding celebration was on in what is known as the tenderloin Nakati, who was attending the wedding is held for the murder and a man named Greenwood who was with Olinsky, when he was killed, is held as a witness.

Will Doubtless be Shot.

Mexico City, Nov. 11.—After five years the cases of C. T. Richardson, Wm. Mason and Dr. C. S. Harle, charged with conspiracy to murder in order to collect the insurance of their alleged victims, have ended, and nothing can save them from being shot at Chihuahua, Mexico, on December 6, unless the Governor of the State interferes. This is unlikely. The Supreme Court has affirmed their sentence of death.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 11.—11 a. m.—The stock market through the first hour was nearer back to normal conditions than it has been at any time since the money stringency prevailed. The supply of stocks was limited. The average buying came from covering of shorts. The market continued firm all through the forenoon and the upward movement was carried along until midday when prices of some stocks were at the highest point of the day. The supply continued scarce and it was noted that there was no pressure on the floor from any source.

PRESIDENT ALDERMAN AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

On Sunday night, the 10th inst., Dr. E. A. Alderman, President of the University of Virginia, delivered an address in Liggett Hall before the boys of the Episcopal High School.

President Alderman spoke first of the ties which bound the School to the University and further stated that nearly one twelfth of the University body was made up of old E. H. S. boys.

He announced as his subject: "An Interpretation of Life in the Old South and its Relation to the Present Life of the Nation."

He drew a vivid picture of ante-bellum days and paid a glowing tribute to the men who made the South what she was. Among the heroes of the world, he said, should be placed the men who, after the fearful days of reconstruction, had placed the South in the proud position she occupies at the present time. The speaker then went on to show that what we need today in our democracy is leadership. Leadership he defined as power to interpret conditions, power to inspire men through personality, and power to sympathize with all kinds of men. Such leadership can be made possible only by education of the right sort—such education as our great southern schools and universities are today giving our young men. He closed with an appeal to the boys present to remember what the whole country expected of them, and prophesied that when the day comes, as come it must, that the nation needs a great leader, she will turn again as she did in the time of the revolution to the South.

DISORDERLY SOLDIERS.

Orderly people who were passengers on the 11:40 electric train for Mount Vernon last Saturday night had an uncomfortable experience by reason of the disorderly conduct of a number of soldiers whose purpose was to make their fellow-passengers, men and women, as miserable as possible. The objects of their hate seemed to be a few inoffensive colored people, who were insulted and cursed by the soldiers. A sergeant was on the train, but he could exercise no authority over the men, and, it is said, finally went out on the platform, and the conductor of the train was powerless to preserve order. The names of the offenders should be procured and turned over to their officers at once. Rev. John Cavnaugh a few years ago while addressing a crowd at King and Royal streets, like John the Baptist of old, saw soldiers among his auditors. Mr. Cavnaugh, however, did not, as the Baptist, tell them to be content with their wages and to terrify no man, but looked with contempt upon one who had a corporal's stripes upon his arm and observed, "Some soldiers wear stripes on their arms; they should wear them on their backs." It would seem that the street preacher was not far from right.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Talbert, wife of Mr. Harry C. Talbert, died in Washington yesterday. The deceased was in the 35th year of her age. She was a daughter of Mr. John S. Greene, of this city.

Miss Blanche Hamilton died yesterday at her home, 728 Jefferson street. Her death was due to consumption. She was eighteen years old, and was a daughter of Mr. Andrew Hamilton.

Mr. Carey Davis, a well-known resident of this city, died at his home, corner of Prince and Pitt streets, at an early hour this morning. The deceased, who had previously been paralyzed, was stricken again yesterday morning while in the yard of his residence. A physician was called, but his case was seen to be hopeless, and his death followed shortly before 5 o'clock this morning. The deceased was 55 years old.

Gladys, the nineteenth-months-old daughter of Mr. Arthur Rowzie, died at her home in Del Ray this morning.

PHYSICAL CULTURE AT ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.

The old adage, "A sound mind in a sound body" is as true today in the twentieth century as in the days of the Greek philosophers when the youth were made to spend quite as much time in the gymnasium as in the academy; hence we find in all modern institutions of learning great attention is given to the all important subject, physical culture. The faculty of St. Mary's Academy, ever wishing to keep abreast of the times in all that makes for development, moral, mental or physical, has secured the services of Miss Maud Bell Rice, of Washington, as instructor of physical culture and classes are already organized and well under way. Miss Rice is a graduate of the Hickman School of Oratory, Washington's leading dramatic school she has also taken courses in her chosen profession in several of the best institutions of Chicago where she taught for three years. At present she is engaged as instructor in several academies of Washington; she also appears in public recitals where her character sketches and classic readings prove her a dramatic artist. Miss Rice joins to a pleasing personality and splendidly developed physique, a rare enthusiasm and love of the work to which she has given herself, thus combining with her equipment of knowledge and experience the other requisite essentials of a successful teacher. She will present her classes in physical culture at St. Mary's commencement exercises in June when the parents will have an opportunity of seeing the amount of good she has accomplished with the young students in their acquired grace of movement and physical development, two very essential elements in the perfectly educated young woman. Miss Rice is also a teacher of voice culture, elocution, fencing and dramatic art and she is prepared to give private instructions to any who prefer it to class.

St. Mary's faculty is to be congratulated on securing so efficient an instructor as Miss Rice, and splendid results may be looked for from her enthusiastic and painstaking efforts with her pupils.

FELL FROM A TRAIN.

A young man, who gave his name as Frank Helmuth, boarded the 11:10 electric train in this city Saturday night for Washington, and at 12:30 yesterday morning was found by the motorman of a south bound train lying in a helpless condition upon the bridge over the Columbia pike. He was placed on the train, brought to this city and taken to the Alexandria Hospital. Apart from cuts and bruises, Helmuth was not seriously hurt. He stated that he had left this city on the 11:10 p. m. train for Washington, and had no recollection from the time he was standing on the car platform passing throught the county until he became conscious in the Infirmary. Helmuth says he lives in Washington.

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. Louis E. Hulfish, pattern superintendent of the Medart Patent Pulley Company in St. Louis, was found dead in his office in that city a few days ago. He had been a sufferer from heart disease. The deceased was a son of the late Garrett Hulfish and a brother of Mr. Worth Hulfish, of this city. He was born at Haymarket, Prince William county. Shortly after the close of the civil war Mr. Hulfish was an apprentice in the Gazette office. In early manhood he removed to St. Louis and became a member of the police force of that city. During late years he had been in the employ of the Medart Patent Pully Company of St. Louis. He leaves a widow.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Recently a youth who gave his name as George Taylor was alleged to have stolen a valise and its contents from a public house in this city. He, it was said, carried the valise to the environs where he rifled it, and, after throwing the receptacle away, started toward Washington. He was traced to Washington and afterwards to Philadelphia, to which place Chief Goods sent a letter. Today he received an answer from James I. Donaghy, captain of detectives in Philadelphia, in which the writer states that Taylor was placed in a house of detention in that city after the alleged robbery in Alexandria, but that he made his escape.

CASE CONTINUED.

Officers Nicholson and Talbot yesterday arrested Lawrence Bright and Bernard Pettey charged with the larceny of bottled beer from the premises of Joseph Weiderman, 1450 Duke street. They were brought before the Police Court, and in the absence of a material witness had their case continued.

LEG CRUSHED.

A colored man named, George Stanton hailing from Culpeper, was found beside the tracks of the electric railway at the Highway bridge across the Potomac Saturday night with his right leg crushed by a train. He was removed to the Emergency Hospital in Washington and the leg amputated.

TWENTY-FOUR FOOT CHANNEL.

The government surveyors who have been at work on charts of the Alexandria harbor were still engaged today. As has been stated, they will report in favor of making a twenty-four foot channel from the outlet lock of the old canal to a point off the shipyard.

The weather during the greater part of yesterday was rainy and threatening. The sky became clear during the night, and cooler and fair weather followed.

MUNICIPAL LUNACY.

By JOHN KENDRICK BANGS.

Judging from the reports that reach us from various parts of the country as to the condition of civic lighting companies and wilted water plants, we shall soon be relieved of the stigma placed upon us by the British visitor to this country who declared that we had no impressive ruins to attract the traveler. Would it not be a good plan for some munificent millionaire to buy up a few of these, transfer them to the banks of the Hudson and thus put that beautiful waterway into the running in the matter of legendary interest with the Rhine? A few moss and ivy covered ruins of this kind would add much to the scenic beauty of the picturesque river and doubtless inspire our literati with ghastly legendary lore that will make those old stories of the Rhine look like a mark and a half. Here indeed is a chance for Mr. Andrew Carnegie to do something to beautify his adopted native land and to fill the shelves of his many libraries as well with good reading at one fell swoop.

* *

The increase of the public debt of Birmingham, England, from $4,000,000 in the early seventies of the last century to $75,000,000, according to the last available figures, shows how completely municipal ownership wipes out a debt of that kind. Alongside of $75,000,000, a paltry sum of $4,000,000 is not only wiped out, but actually annihilated.

* *

The police of Chicago were assessed in the last elections to pay the expenses of the municipal ownership campaign. This is another point in favor of a comprehensive system of public ownership. After awhile, with the motormen, conductors, watermen, gasman, ditch diggers, linemen, electricians, and so on, to assess for similar purposes, the public will doubtless enjoy free elections. One might almost hope that such a fund as this would wax so great that after elections are over there would be a balance left to declare a municipal dividend with. The byproducts of the municipal ownership idea grow daily more and more interesting, not to say alluring.

* *

It is nonsense to say that municipal ownership breeds socialism. On the contrary, it is driving people back to individualism. In some European cities people who used to patronize the trolleys now walk because they wish to get where they are going along lines of least official resistance. And in Valley City, N. D., the quality of the service of the public gas plant has driven a number of business men to install gasoline lighting systems of their own on their premises.

* *

Muncie, Ind., has abandoned her lighting plant, but consoles herself with the thought that her bonds remain. As the poet said, or would have said if he had thought of it:

Old ties are hard to sever.
Other ties endure forever.

* *

The city fathers of Brunswick, Mo., have just done a good stroke of business in selling its lighting plant for 35 cents on the dollar, taking pay in light and water. It is fortunate it wasn't a municipal bakery. It would be hard to pay for that by sending large drafts of rhubarb pie and cream cakes to the city treasury, to say nothing of the risk Brunswick would incur of a sudden attack of civic indigestion running into chronic appendicitis from overindulgence in doughnuts. Operations upon the body politic are dangerous things, since the patient is apt to experience ill effects from taking gas.

Can't Do It by Statute.

Any corporation is entitled to a fair return on all its legitimate investments over and above all expenses when these are carefully and economically administered. There are some corporations which are undoubtedly overcharging the public, but there are more whose stock has never paid any dividends whatever, and only an unfortunate aggravation of the present strained relations existing between the people and the public service corporations can result from the expectation of the former that they can through legislative action obtain a universal reduction in the charges made by such corporations.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

A Danger to Be Avoided.

If a city is not well governed, municipal ownership is the most dangerous thing imaginable and should be carefully avoided. There is always the danger that the public utilities the city is supposed to own will become nothing more or less than the private property of the people at the head of the government, who will work to their own advantage and the enhancement of their private wealth.—William T. Stead.

Only as a Last Resort.

Any city which is getting fair treatment from a privately owned plant should eschew municipal ownership. Except under unusually favorable conditions—conditions that promise to make the proposed plant a positive money earner—municipal ownership should be only a last resort.—Marquette (Mich.) Journal.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute," says the doctor. A Significant Prayer.

"May the Lord help you make Bucklen's Arnica Salve known to all," writes J. G. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. It quickly took the pain out of a felon for me and cured it in a wonderfully short time." Best on earth for sores, burns and wounds. 25c at all drug stores.
